NP/PA Annual Meeting Planning Committee

Behind the scenes

“The Annual SIR Conference APP Committee consists of nine constituents with practicing APPs spanning across the nation. This year’s didactic program was created based on the results of a CME survey completed by fellow APPs, previously requested subjects and social media feedback. We will also host a workshop that teaches vascular access, ultrasound guided biopsies and other procedural techniques, which can be beneficial for APPs new to the IR field, as well as veterans who want to expand their skill set. On Sunday, there will be a luncheon, which provides a perfect platform for networking and collaboration amongst peers. We are confident this year’s program will be informative and valuable for all who attend.”

— Angela Nash, PhD, PA, Chair, NP/PA Annual Meeting Planning Committee

“Every year the meeting committee starts planning for the next year’s meeting shortly after the end of the SIR Annual Scientific Meeting. We gather throughout the year by Zoom and email discussing content and using our resources to search out great content and speakers for the best APP experience. There are always cancellations and last-minute rescheduling. We work with SIR and vendors to maximize the resources available to us for the hands-on workshop. I am so appreciative of the support that we receive from SIR guiding our content and offering well-reasoned suggestions. I have always felt this is one of the most fun and impactful committees to join and participate in every year. I encourage all SIR members to consider joining.”

— Michael Bowen, APN, Past Chair, Annual Meeting Planning Committee
