We believe in the limitless potential of image-guided therapies to solve the toughest medical problems.

We believe in physician insight, clinical expertise and innovation to develop breakthrough treatments, change medical practice and improve lives.

We believe in research-based outcomes and telling the powerful story of IR to all who need to hear it.
SIR works with our members every day to realize—

- A thriving, diverse IR workforce that supports greater patient access
- Better patient outcomes through evidence-based medicine
- Accessible, lifelong learning that produces innovative, highly trained and competitive interventional radiology teams worldwide
- Greater awareness by the public and decision-makers of the value of interventional radiology

SIR education, training, advocacy and research are an investment in you, your colleagues and partners—together, we work to make IR the world’s first choice in image-guided medicine.
We believe in your practice

Caring for people is what drove you to become a doctor; improving outcomes is what motivates you as an interventional radiologist. Stimulating the demand for a greater, more vibrant IR marketplace and supporting you in your chosen practice area ultimately serves patients. That is why SIR focuses on:

• Studying IR workforce trends, supporting diversity in practice and removing barriers to entering IR

• Developing resources to help build your practice and standards that advance clinical care

• Working with insurers and regulators to increase patient access to high-quality IR care
We believe in fearless thinking

Interventional radiologists advance medical practice by developing, testing and implementing breakthrough treatments that harness the power of image-guided therapies. SIR is committed to supporting evidence, not anecdotes, that:

• Increases the amount, quality and usability of IR data that is collected

• Better communicates results, in the clinic, with payers and on Capitol Hill

• Fosters a culture of research and next-generation IR

“Since becoming a member in 1991 after my fellowship, I’ve been amazed at how our society represents us, supports us, and grows with our vibrant specialty.”

—Steven J. Citron, MD, FSIR
We believe in curating knowledge

Carefully curated, accessible education and training serves the global IR community. SIR is committed to providing lifelong learning that enhances the breadth and consistency of the education provided to residents according to the ACGME curriculum. SIR members have access to:

• Highly specialized IR training from leading experts and faculty

• Industry partners and new technologies that keep IR at the forefront of patient care

• Expansive MOC learning opportunities, including SA-CME and on-demand courses

• Special sections focused on trainees, early career IRs and women in interventional radiology

We believe in collaboration

Regardless of your experience or practice environment, working together is the crucible for innovation and change. SIR provides opportunities for IRs and partners to share knowledge, online tools and ideas that:

• Connect you with leading faculty and experts in interventional radiology through online forums and in-person meetings

• Forge relationships with allied organizations that advance the specialty

• Share the powerful story of interventional radiology with the public, media and legislative influencers

• Bring the promise of IR to other countries and regions
The mentorship program allowed me meet the next generation of IR—the individuals who will continue to shape and grow our field beyond its current boundaries. This is the most remarkable part of my academic career!"

–Maureen Kohi, MD, FSIR
Value and savings

SIR membership provides IR advocacy, practice resources, education and volunteer leadership opportunities for every stage of your career. Members also enjoy discounts on training and professional development opportunities.

The value of SIR membership

- Subscription to Journal of Vascular and Interventional Radiology (JVIR)
  Read monthly print and digital versions of the peer-reviewed journal of choice for interventional radiologists.

- Development of clinical guidelines
  Benefit from the latest standardized procedures and principles to ensure quality clinical care.

- Discounted member rates on meetings and training
  Enjoy savings on registration to SIR’s Annual Scientific Meeting and specialized training like Y-90 and ACTIVE, SIR’s meeting dedicated to venous thromboembolism.

- Discounted rates on educational products and offerings
  Visit the IR Store for discounts on SA-CME courses, on-demand education, meeting proceedings, webinars and more.
Advocacy
Represent the reimbursement, legislative and regulatory needs and concerns of IR on Capitol Hill.

Complimentary Interventional Radiology Coding Update
Stay up-to-date through an annual download of critical information on coding and administration.

Grants, scholarships and career mentorship
Access funding and networking opportunities that support next generation IR.

Quality and improvement measures
Use tools and systems that demonstrate the strength of IR through evidence and outcomes collection.

SIR Connect
Build your reputation and help others by sharing interests, challenges and successes with peers, leading experts and faculty.

Career HQ
Hire or get hired and take advantage of generous job advertising discounts on SIR’s interventional radiology-only online career center.

Members-only web content
Access timely, exclusive education and professional development content and opportunities.

Subscription to IR Quarterly, SIR’s quarterly news magazine
Keep current on critical IR issues through stories, interviews and in-depth analyses, in print and online.

SIRcloud™
Free access to SIR’s growing comprehensive online library of presentations covering a wide range of interventional radiology topics.
Helping IR thrive

The value of belonging to SIR extends beyond your member benefits. Here are just some of the other ways we’re working every day to help you and your practice thrive.

Ongoing activities

Corporate relationships
SIR forms strategic partnerships and exchanges between industry and the IR community that drive medicine forward and further state-of-the-art medical technologies.

Global outreach
We advance interventional radiology around the world and increase access to global resources and colleagues through international delegations, scholarships and mentoring.
Government affairs
SIRPAC, the only political action committee dedicated to interventional radiology, represents the interests of IR before Congress and federal agencies.

Special sections
SIR offers special sections focused on residencies and fellowships, early career IR, women in IR, and diversity and inclusion, and more.

"Together, we accomplish incredible things and move interventional radiology forward as a specialty."

—Sanjeeva P. Kalva, MD, FSIR
Join SIR today. We're here for every stage of your career.

SIR offers membership categories for every member of the IR team—trainees, attending physicians, clinical associates and scientists. Visit sirweb.org/member-central and select the category that best fits your needs.